

European Training Foundation webinar: self-assessment of schools

In these challenging times, providers of education and training have been under the spotlight as never before. They have proved their centrality not only as formal providers of education, but also as points of reference and pillars of support for communities of learners, families and state authorities. This has presented additional challenges to providers – and has given more relevance to the mechanisms of quality and improvement management.

The Forum for Quality Assurance in Vocational Education and Training (QA Forum) of the European Training Foundation (ETF) is organising a webinar dedicated to self-assessment of schools. The webinar will take place on 25 June at 11.00 – 12.30 (Turin time). The webinar will be held in English.

The ETF QA Forum is a transnational collaboration initiative between national institutions with VET quality assurance mandates in ETF's partner countries. The aim of the Forum is to support member countries to modernise and improve quality assurance in VET.

Through this webinar, we would like to share experiences of Estonia and Montenegro in the self – assessment of schools – from the legal basis to implementation, and links with external assessment. There will be a possibility to interact and ask questions to experts. The agenda is at the bottom of this invitation.
