SUMMARY

The main objective of the ENE Social Inclusion initiative is to recognize excellence in social inclusion through: „ innovative solutions that focus on innovative teaching, learning and technology, and the communication of findings to the initiative's broader community, which includes ETF partner countries and EU Member States; is a Community Practice Platform that allows participating CoVEs to benefit from peer reviews; increase visibility and opportunities for cooperation among CoVEs; identify development needs and creation of partnerships that remove barriers for marginalized groups seeking access to training and employment; and share tools and best practices with private sector companies, public sector entities, such as universities, and policymakers in partner countries.

This Peer Learning hosted by Albanian counterparts is part of the regular exchanges among ETF ENE CoVEs about best practices that inform long-term decision-making and action plans; evidence that VET learners need a broad range of skills and key competences to manage their professional lives in a labor market that demands a high degree of adaptability in the long term; and building resilient multi-stakeholder network that embraces the public and private sectors. This peer visit follows the other peer visit hosted by Israeli and Turkey ENE members in the period March-April will be a unique opportunity to observe closely the reality and the work of the CoVE Hospitality and Tourism School of Tirana.

The agenda includes a comprehensive and multifaceted portrait of the stakeholders involved in the centers' life: the policy makers, the institution implementing the policies, the donors that are supporting the Albanian government in implementing their policies jointly with employers and all the other related public and private institutions.
