- our new Data protection intranet page – would this be ok? Maybe to temporary take out the Advices?

EDPS proposal

Each year on 28 January, EU institutions and member states of the Council of Europe celebrate Data Protection Day. This day marks the anniversary of the Council of Europe’s data protection convention, known as “Convention 108”, which is the first legally binding international law concerning individuals’ right to the protection of their personal data.

> Watch the video message of Wojciech Wiewiórowski, the EDPS.

> Read the EDPS factsheet to learn more about your rights in the digital era.

> Follow the EDPS online course on data protection available on EU Learn and deepen your knowledge of how to implement data protection rules and principles in your day-to-day tasks.

Happy Data Protection Day!
